

PRESS RELEASE

Contact: Diane Johnson
Marketing Manager, McGhee Productivity Solutions
dianej@mcgheepro.com
303-881-8995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MCGHEE PRODUCTIVITY SOLUTIONS ADDS NEW EXECUTIVES TO INCREASE DELIVERY OF CORPORATE PRODUCTIVITY, EMAIL OVERLOAD AND WORK/LIFE BALANCE SERVICES

DENVER, CO, May 13, 2008 – In response to rising demand for productivity education and consulting services based on the Take Back Your Life™ methodology, McGhee Productivity Solutions is pleased to announce the addition of several new US-based executives. Laurie Oswald assumes the position of Director of Sales, while Patricia Heyman, Modupe Oyewole and Darin Browning fill consultant positions in the Southwest, Northeast and Texas respectively.

Laurie Oswald joins McGhee as Director of Sales after a 22 year career in the communications industry with market leaders RR Donnelley, Quebecor World, and American Color. Having held senior management positions in sales, strategy and marketing, she brings deep experience driving business development, team building, brand creation, and product extension along with strong financial results.

Patricia Heyman, MSW, ICSW, CEC, comes to McGhee following 20 years as a facilitator, leadership consultant, company president and executive coach in the US and abroad. She has worked with numerous corporate executives to enhance leadership, increase team alignment, and improve strategic development and execution.

Mo Oyewole joins the MPS consulting team after spending many years with Nigeria's 3rd largest mobile phone service provider as a senior product manager. Mo brings extensive experience in business development, customer communications, sales and product management.

Darin Browning's formal training is in Industrial & Organizational Behavior, Human Resource Management, Sociology, and Psychology. With numerous Microsoft IT Certifications, he specializes in sharing technology education with broadly diverse groups, from business owners and decision makers to deaf and disabled students.

“Though diverse in background, each of these individuals brings a wonderful passion for helping people achieve personal and professional goals,” offers CEO Sally McGhee. “We are extremely pleased to have them on the McGhee team as we execute on our strategy to bring organizational transformation to our growing customer base.”

###

McGhee Productivity Solutions, Inc. (McGhee) provides consulting services, tools and education to increase productivity and work/life balance. Based in Denver, CO, McGhee integrates its proven methods and protocols with Microsoft technology to deliver innovative action-management strategies to individuals and organizations worldwide. The McGhee approach is widely recognized for maximizing technology investments, improving job satisfaction and driving sustainable productivity throughout numerous Fortune 500 organizations. CEO Sally McGhee is the author of the popular book series Take Back Your Life! Using Microsoft Outlook to Get Organized and Stay Organized. www.mcgheeproductivity.com